RN Case Manager • Anew Home Care

Pat Vail is a truly excellent nurse. She has been a Home Health Case Manager with this team for five years. She is a natural mentor and successfully facilitates learning opportunities for her fellow clinicians by sharing knowledge and experience as well as coordinating in-services and skills evaluations.

After earning her BSN at IUPUI in 1983, Pat served her community for 30 years as an Emergency Room Nurse. Over the course of her ER nursing career, she achieved advanced certifications including ACLS, TNCC and NRP. Pat remains proficient at performing specialty infusions for our Home Health patients.

Pat described herself as a “Jack of all trades, and master of none.” That is true of her profession as well as her hobbies. Entertaining her nieces is Pat’s favorite activity outside of her profession. Otherwise, if she happens to find extra time on her hands, she dabbles in needle point and crochet, but she is sure to make time for reading her favorite romance novels.

Pat Vail was nominated for the 2018 Quest for Excellence Award because she continuously performs above the standard. She volunteers to train other clinical staff and offers advice and assistance at every opportunity. The most valuable trait that makes Pat a special health care provider is that she will do her duties with a joyful heart and smile for the patient who needs her.
